

Bradley Hammond – Artist Bio

Bradley Hammond lives in NSW, Australia

He has held solo exhibitions in Melbourne, Sydney, Johannesburg, Paris and Bathurst and has participated in numerous group exhibitions in Sydney, Melbourne, Essen, London, Lyon, Paris, Johannesburg and Cape Town.

His work is held in public collections including Anglo American PLC, London; Mornington Peninsula Regional Art Gallery (NWOP); Bathurst Regional Art Gallery, Johannesburg Art Gallery and Sasol Art Collection. His work is held in private collections in Australia, New Zealand, France and South Africa.

In 2000 he won the prestigious ABSA Atelier award for contemporary art which gave him a 6 month residency at the Cite Internationale des Arts, Paris.

He has been shortlisted for number of awards including National Works on Paper Award 2004, Fletcher Jones Art Prize, 2006, Waterhouse Natural History Art Prize 2007, the Stanthorpe Prize 2010 and the Central West Regional Artists Award in 2011.

He was invited to exhibit on the 2010 Kedumba Drawing Award.

He is the 2012 recipient of the National Association of the Visual Arts Windmill Trust Scholarship.